

PROBLEMS AT WORK

Imagine you are appearing on a political televised programme where experts are invited to speak about workplace issues.

1) Choose the topic for tonight's primetime show! Here are your options:

- discrimination
- unemployment and the young/the old (over 50)
- the gender gap
- social networks and work
- high stress jobs
- work-life balance
- bullying
- alcohol and work in the UK
- other...

2) Think of the roles you may wish to act out:

A famous journalist, a spokesperson for the government, a labour union representative, an employee/a manager who has experienced the problem, a therapist, a sociologist...

It should be a heated discussion because you all have opposing viewpoints!
